One big secret of a refreshing personality

THE girl who looks as if she belonged in the picture of a bright merry morning, the man who seems to be saying to himself—"Let's start for China or Chile or Chicago—it's wonderful weather for living"; older people who very apparently enjoy success and continue to find life interesting.

More than you realize, refreshing personality depends on personal care and cleanliness. If you are particular about such things, you will use SILOX.

You wouldn't consider a modern bathroom well equipped without soap. After you've experienced the delightful sensation of SILOX, you'll always keep a can of this new powder handy on the bathroom shelf. At any time an application of SILOX relieves the sticky, hot-weather dampness that affects you, and likewise absorbs any apparent odors caused by the activity of the tiny sweat glands just under the skin. Shake a little SILOX on your hands if they are moist and prove it for yourself.

SILOX makes you feel fresh and clean, and you are

After strenuous exercise, a few sets of tennis in the sun, a hot day in the city, while traveling—when ever it's inconvenient or impossible to bathe—just SILOX shaken over yourself is very satisfactory. Here's something that will make every summer day pleasanter! Of course, at the shore there are numerous uses for SILOX. You can get completely dry after a dip, prevent and soothe sunburn, even be comfortable on muggy days. Men like SILOX after shaving. . . . Women and girls immediately discover many personal uses for this deodorant powder. . . . And it's excellent first aid for slight injuries, burns, scalds, little cuts and scratches, for it is both prophylactic and antiseptic. It is the very best possible powder for the tender skin of babies (unscented).

Scientists say that SILOX is a preparation containing a chemically inert substance with an amazing magnetism for moisture. We know that this material soaks up wetness like a spectacular sponge! We know, too, that this wonderful powder is the only thing of its kind ever placed on the market, that it is new and different from anything else, both in character and in composition. It is one of the most personal things modern science has ever offered you. Because it is without chemical reaction it is perfectly safe and soft to use. It is because of its extreme absorbency that it is also deodorant.

Plenty of soap and water and SILOX

—that's the recipe for the glorious feeling of well-being we all crave. Year round certainty of such sweet, fresh cleanliness as you never knew before! That's what SILOX offers you. After the bath is its primary use. You will be continually discovering for yourself secondary uses. Begin now! Ask for it at toilet counters or at your druggist's—35 cents. If you don't find it, write us. Consult your doctor about it too. THE SILICA GEL PRODUCTS CORPORATION, Baltimore, Md.

A man likes SILOX after a shower. It gives quick, satisfactory service. Dries every drop of moisture after a shave. Just the thing to use after strenuous exercise.

SILOX

Before you go to a dance, use SILOX generously. It makes a remarkable difference—you'll feel marvelously cool and fresh all evening—you won't have to worry about that wilted look.

REDUCING CORSETS
It all used to be

The slim effect, now so greatly desired, is as much a matter of suppleness as of proper lines. Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets are unusual because they give both, permitting that freedom of motion which means grace and at the same time reducing the figure to its best proportions. And yet they are not expensive.
