

THE STAR'S DAILY PICTORIAL PAGE

THE EVENING STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1922.

Watching the American yachts sailing ahead of the British boats in the six-meter race on Long Island sound, off Oyster Bay. Photo taken from deck of the United States destroyer Mahan.

J. W. E. Sarton, clerk in the supply department of the navy yard, who retires on September 16, after twenty-eight years' service. He is the first member of the clerical force of the Washington navy yard to retire.

Winners in the one-month-to-one-year class of the Georgetown playground baby show yesterday afternoon. Left to right: Doris Paxson, first prize; George Lacy, second, and Kermit Anderson, third.

Miss Aileen Riggins, Olympic diving champion, displays her ability at the aquatic carnival of the Huguenot Boat Club, New Rochelle, N. Y., with a jack-knife dive.

Princess Helene of Rumania and her son Michael. The latter is one of the long line of heirs to the throne of his country. Photo taken in park of Chateau Palech at Sinsia, Rumania's summer social center.

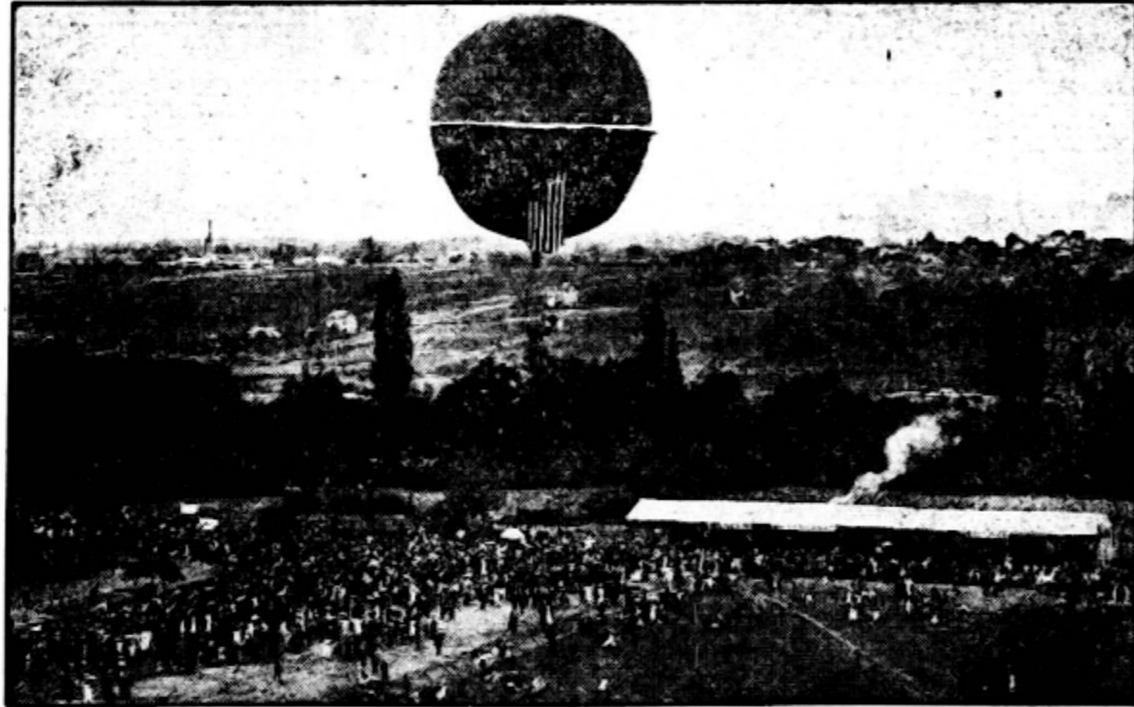

Prince Heinrich Hohenzollern, brother of the former Kaiser, is a glider fan. He is talking with Herr Martens, a pilot who kept his glider in the air for three hours at the recent Ribon district meet.

This is of special interest to woman readers, for the newest and smartest accessory to the wardrobe is the matelasse jacket. The one pictured is of black and white, and the black hat has exceptional charm.

Commendatore Augusto Russo, newly arrived attaché of the Italian embassy. He served in a similar capacity in Washington about twelve years ago.

Start of the United States balloon in the Gordon-Bennett cup race at Geneva, Switzerland, on August 6. This interesting photo was received in the United States today. Lieut. H. E. Honeywell, pilot of the balloon, finished second, traveling 639.28 miles. Lieut. Ernest de Moyter, Belgian, the winner, covered 852.53 miles.

The otter hounds are on the scent in England and the season of autumn sports has opened. Photo shows meet of Crowhurst hounds at Birtley farms, Bramley, and the hunters are forming a "stickle" to prevent the otter from going down the stream.

Latest photo of Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, who recently startled Paris by proclaiming his right to the throne of Russia. The duke has lived in France since the death of the czar.

"Dark horse" wins the annual Pikes Peak climb. The driver, Noel Bullock, climbed from an altitude of 8,900 feet to the summit of 14,109 feet, finishing in 19 minutes and 50 seconds; 15 seconds better than his nearest competitor.

Babies to the right of them; babies to the left of them!—and how would you like to be a judge in a baby contest? Would you back up your decisions with force, if necessary? This photo of the judging was made yesterday at the Georgetown playgrounds.

Over a bar twelve feet in the air. This stunt was a feature of the amateur athletes' national meet at Newark, N. J., yesterday. The jumper is A. Reich of the Detroit Young Men's Club, an amateur pole vaulting champion.